Instructions: In the text below, underline all of the proper nouns that name months of the year, days of the week, and special events. Then, fix each of these proper nouns by adding a capital letter to the noun. On the back of this sheet, write your own paragraph about Halloween, making sure to use and capitalize at least five proper nouns.

The modern halloween celebration is a mix of old and new traditions.

The holiday is celebrated on october 31, which is the same day the Celts celebrated their festival called samhain. This was the Celts' last day of their calendar year. The last day of our calendar year is december 31, which is when we celebrate new year's eve.

halloween can fall on any day of the week. If it is on a saturday, many people are happy because they can stay out late and not have school the next morning! But if it is on a monday, many people will be tired on tuesday morning when they go to school and work! halloween is a fun holiday that is celebrated in many counties around the world!
