Instructions: Authors generally write a book for a purpose: to inform, to entertain, or to persuade. Write the page number in the correct box when you come across a strong example of the evidence supporting one of the purposes. When you are finished reading, write the words to show that example in the right-hand box.

Instructions: Write two commas to separate the dialogue in each of the sentences below.

- ① “Here’s the deal” Mr. Bolstead began “we’re going to set up our own mini-economy that will teach you the basics of how capitalism works.”
- ② “This is your capital—one hundred Bolstead bucks” he explained “which you will use to start your business.”
- ③ “Also, keep your costs in mind” Mr. Bolstead continued “because you have to pay to make these products—not only in money, but also in time.”
- ④ “Our booth should look professional” Marcus remarked “like with advertising and stuff.”
- ⑤ “Good idea” I said “since we have enough left over for decorations.”
- ⑥ “By pricing their goods and services correctly” Mr. Bolstead replied “which is what you need to figure out next.”
- ⑦ “We can make three hundred patties” Shelly began “but they’re not very big.”
- ⑧ “I know what you’re all waiting for” he said, standing at the front of the class “but I can’t tell you till the end of the period.”
- ⑨ “Maybe you’ll be a millionaire, too” Shelly whispered to me “but only if you have a great manager like me and a great worker like Marcus.”
