Animals Come and Go

Many animals travel
from place to place.
They travel to find food,
water, and shelter.

Baby animals often travel
with their parents.
They may ride, cling, or run
with their parents.

Ride

Baby lions are called cubs.

Some cubs ride in their mother's mouth.

Lions sleep in dens.

Baby fish hatch from eggs.
Some baby fish ride
in their father's mouth.
Fish live in water.

Cling

Baby spiders hatch from eggs.

Some baby spiders cling
to their mother's back.

Most spiders climb on webs.

Baby frogs hatch from eggs.
Some baby frogs cling
to their father's back.
Frogs can live in water and on land.

Run

Baby penguins hatch from eggs.

Baby penguins run
behind their parents.
Penguins like to swim,
but they can also run.

Baby wolves are called pups.
The pups run
with their parents.
Wolves sleep in dens.

Ride, Cling, Run

Baby opossums are called joeys.
First, joeys ride
in their mother's pouch.
Then, they cling
to their mother's back.
Later, they run from place to place.
