Name _____

Instructions: In the text below, circle all the proper nouns (which should be capitalized).

In roman myths, pluto is the god of the underworld. In greek myths, he is known as hades, ruler of the underworld. The planet may have received this name because it's so far from the sun that it is always in darkness.

pluto is so far away that even the hubble space telescope can make out only the largest features on its surface.

We will finally get to visit pluto, charon, and the kuiper Belt! On january 19, 2006, NASA launched a robot spacecraft on the long journey. This mission is called new horizons. The spacecraft will arrive at pluto in the summer of 2015 and then go on to study other objects in the kuiper Belt from 2018 to 2022.
